LOWER WAGES IN MANUFACTORIES. OPINION OF NEW-ENGLAND BUSINESS MEN ON

Boston, Nov. 27 (Special).-Referring to the new Tariff bill, ex-Governor Ames said this afternoon: I do not believe such a bill will ever pass through Congress. The Democratic protectionists will fight against its passage as well as the Republicans. I cannot understand how any one could be foolish enough to frame such a radiculous bill. I am told that agricultural implements are to be admitted free. This is a direct discrimination against the American manufacturer. If manufactured articles are all to be admitted free every manufactory in New-England and along the coast will be closed up. Wages will be reduced, of course, if any work-men are fortunate enough to get work. One thing on iron ore and % cents a ten on coal. Both should be taken off, I think. The duty on steel, which we use largely in making our shovels, is 40 to 50 per cent. On finished from and steel the duty is now 100 or more per cent. It should stay so. To take the tariff off manufactured articles is discrimination against the New-England manufacturer."

"If we are to have free coal, what will Penn-anthracite coal that comes from there will be in demand. Bituminous coal only will be imported from the provinces, of course, and will be largely used in New-England. It will be a good thing."

The lumber men seem rather indifferent. Frank W. Lawrence, of Lawrence & Wiggin, No. 55 Kilbyst., dealers in hardwood, said: "I don't see as it will make much difference. Some Michigan men have gone to Canada and bought pine lands, think-ing this would come about some day. It will put them on about the same footing as the Wisconsin

The Boston Lumber Company people said: "For The Boston Lumber Company people said! "For a carload of lumber the Boston and Maine charges $40 from any point in Quebec to Boston, and from Sherbrooke, $33. Now, as soon as the duty is off the road will put up the freightage, and so neutralize the whole thing. The duty is £2 a boatload, and when the duty is taken off the Canadians will raise the price to $19, the price now being $3. The price of lumber will not be materially affected here."

when the duty is taken out the Canadians will raise the price to $10$, the price now being $1. The price of lumber will not be materially affected here."

An importer of white pine said: The duty on white pine lumber is only $1 at housand. The removal would not be of particular benefit to New-England as the amount of pine lumber that goes late building is not large; temporarily there will be an advantage to the importer, because the purchases of lumber for next year have been made and the purchaser receives the lumber in Canada and pays the duty on the importation. If there is no duty to be paid the importer will get an advantage on this year's purchase. When he comes to buy for 18.5 the Canadian will advance his prices fully $5$ cents of the hundred that is the present duty. The benefit of the duty lies between the Government and the Canadian."

Hoston, Nov. 21.—Ex-Judge Charle's Levi Woodbury said to-day of the new Tariff bill: "I don't see any occasion to speculate just now as to what the Committee on Ways and Means will report to the House. You can't tell what tacks the committee will make before them. If we are to believe the newspapers, the committee is tacking all the time. The main question to be dealt with is the ruising of sufficient revenue to carry on the Government. This report is like an advertisement of a big football game, where, instead of one ball, a thousand balls are going to be in play, in all probability this is a minority report, and when it reaches the House it will be discussed item by item. Then again, the House and the Senate may not agree, and there will have to be a conference of the committee. No, it's useless to prognosticate. I think the whole thing is premature."

President 4. M. Whitney of the Dominion Coal Company said this afternoon that he did not care to discuss the Tariff bill without more careful reading. It was going to help the Dominion Coal Company said the after the fill without more careful reading. It was going to help the Dominion Coal Company said the safet nead

HEAVY PURCHASES OF PRINT CLOTHS.

Fall River, Nov. 27 (Special).-The print cloth market has advanced in price an eighth of a cent yard, owing to an extraordinary purchase by the American Printing Company, of which Bliss. American Printing Company, or water Bilss, Fabyan & Co. are the New-York agents. After the weekly cloth statement was issued Saturday, it became whispered about among manufacturers and brokers that large sales of goods were beand brokers that large sales of goods were being made on a basis much better than the quoted price. It became known to-day that the operations were the most extensive ever known here in a short time. A half a million pieces of Standard 64x6i goods were contracted for at 215-16 cents and 3 cents a yard, some of the contracts extending as far as April of next year. At the same time
Boston agents of the company were by as far as April of next year. At the same it Boston agents of the company were buying a they succeeded in placing orders for goods to extent of 150,000 pleces. The combined burcha represent product of three weeks of the manilis in this city. The large sales have plan manufacturers and operators in an unexpected secure position for some months to come, a already the prices of odd makes have jumped sympathy with those paid for regulars,

THE COURTS.

EDWARD J. WOOLSEY SUED

MISS M'NULTY WANTS HER SHARE IN THE ES-TATE OF HIS MOTHER, WHO WAS HER AUNT. Miss Martha McNulty has begun a suit in the Supreme Court to recover $15,000 from Edward J. Wootsey and for an accounting of the estate of her aunt, Mrs. Emily P. Woolsey, who was Mr. Woolsey's mother. Mrs. Woolsey died on November 26, 1891. leaving a large estate. Edward J. Woolsey and Judge John R. Brady, of the Supreme Court, were appointed executors and administrators, under her will. Judge Brady is now dead. Mrs. Woolsey directed that her executors should dispose of her real estate, pay her debts and the legacies under the will. The sum of $109,000 was to be invested for the maintenance of her grandsons, George M. and Edward J. Woolsey. Fanny S. Woolsey, who was then Mr. Woolsey's wife, was to receive $20,000 in lieu of dower. Among other bequests was one of $15,000 to Miss McNulty, who had lived with Mrs.

sit.000 to Miss McNulty, who had lived with Mrs.
Woolsey for about ten years before her death. Mr.
Woolsey was the residuary legates.
Miss McNulty says that Mr. Woolsey has sold part of the real estate and mortgaged part of it and has appropriated to himself the proceeds in violation of the trust imposed on him by the will. She also says that there is still real estate belonging to the estate unsold, including property at Lexington-ave, and Twenty-second-st., and also at Seventy-fourth-st. and West End-ave., besides property in Queens County. Miss McNulty says that her legacy has not been paid, and that unless the court intervenes there is danger that her security will be distroyed. She therefore asks that Mr. Woolsey be compelled to sell some of the remaining real estate and pay to her $15,000 from the proceeds.
Mr. Woolsey is a member of the Union, Manhattan and Lambs' clabs, and is reputed to be a millionaire. His wife, Fanny S, Woolsey, whom he married in 1870, obtained an absolute divorce from him about a year ago. Mr. Woolsey made counter-charges naming Frank K. Sturgis, president of the Stock Exchange, as co-respondent. Mrs. Woolsey has since then married Edward N, Padelford, of Baltimore. Mr. Woolsey has also married again.

THE WRIT NOT SERVED.

A LEGAL PAPER AGAINST MRS. RUSSELL HENDER-SON RETURNED TO THE SHERIFF.

Mrs. Russell Henderson was not to be found in her apartments at the St. Marc Hotel, Thirty-ninth-st. and Fifth-ave., yesterday afternoon. In the hotel office they could not say whether or not she had gone out. They presumed that she had. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Henderson have occupied a suite of rooms at the St. Marc for nearly four years. Mr. Walden, proprietor of the house, said that he had not interested himself in Mrs. Henand further than that he was not concerned. He had not seen Mrs. Henderson for over two weeks; derson's affairs. She always paid her hotel bills, but that was not unusual, for there were some guests of the hotel he never saw at all.

1883. They separated September 28, 1890. Since then Mr. Warren has been paying his wife $80 a month for her support. Mrs. Warren says that her husband has an annual income of $7,000.

D. C. Briggs, counsel for Mr. Warren, received permission to hand in papers in opposition, saying that the affidavits were not such as should be read in open court. Neither Mr. Briggs nor Mr. Warren would discuss the case. It is understood that the affidavits referred to mention the names of weiknown people.

Judge Freedman refused to send the case to a referre. He said it could be tried quickly in court. His decision in this respect caused considerable comment in view of the many expressions to which the judge has given utterance while trying the Bates case that such actions should be sent to referees and the proceedings kept private.

Later MAN WILL Cach.

The Seaman will case, like Tennyson's brook, bids fair to go on forever. Everybody, except perhaps the plantiff, Peter Shute, and his counsel, thought the long-drawn-out proceedings would come to an end yesterday. Judge Patterson intimated last Friday that his patience was nearly exhausted.

But it appeared that there was more testimony to be taken. James Slattery, a gardener in Mrs. Seaman's service, said he thought that Mrs. Seaman was ir vice, said he thought that and sealed was rational at times. One reason which he gave for this helief was that Mrs. Seaman did not want to hire him the first time he applied for a situation. He heard her say once while she was in the country: "What a nice place I have to bury my cats try: "What a nice place I have to bury my cate and dogs!"

Dr. Scudder, whose wife was a first cousin to Mrs. Seaman, was Mrs. Seaman's physician between 1859 and 1869. He said that Mrs. Seaman did not know him once when he called upon her. He thought that her mind was affected. The case will go on to-day.

THE REAL ESTATE EXCHANGE ELECTION.

It appears as if the posted ticket at the Real Estate Exchange for the election of December 11 would meet with some opposition. The selection by the Nominating Committee, of real estate men only, seems to have given umbrage to some of the members, who think that all classes of the the members who think that all classes of the stockholders should be represented on the board, and not simply those engaged in the real estate business. Some of C. W. Luyster's friends intend to run him on a separate ticket. Mr. Luyster is not a candidate and does not solicit election, but if re-elected, would serve.

Under the cumulative system of voting, which was abolished by the laws of 1800, and re-enacted in 1832, the men supporting Mr. Luyster can cast all their votes for him, and there is no doubt of his re-election.

THE CITY PURCHASES AN ARMORY SITE. This city has now acquired the title to the site once occupied by the old armory of the 22d Regi-ment in West Fourteenth-st. It is understood that ment in West Fourteenth-st. It is understood that much of the property was promptly purchased by the city, but some condemnation proceedings and satisfactory settlements with minors who were interested in the estate caused a delay to the new adjustment of ownership.

President E. P. Barker, of the Armory Board, yesterday said that at the last meeting of the board notices were issued authorizing the preparation of architectural plans. Other regulations were passed for the construction of the new armery of the 9th regiment, which is to occupy the old ground of the 2d Regiment.

A BIG WELL BROUGHT UNDER CONTROL.

Huron, S. D., Nov. 27 .- Experts have succeeded in placing an elbow on the standpipe of the Risdon artesian well, which has been throwing an imartesian well, which has been throwing an immense column of water eighty feet in the air for the last two weeks, thus directing the flow into ditches dug to carry it into the river and preventing further damage to crops on the low lands in the vicinity of the well. Representatives of a Chicago manufacturing company and capitalists from Minneapolis and Winnea are trying to get possession of the well, and a their negotiations prove successful it will be used for power purposes.

The New-York Commandery of the Military Order of Loyal Legion will depart from its usual custom in having its December dinner on Tuesday, instead of Wednesday evening, next week. The principal feature of the social part that usually follows the dinner will be a paper road by Engineer-in-Chief George W. Melville, of the Navy, on "The Retreat from the Jeannette."

THE KRUPP GUN MAY GO TO SANDY HOOK. It is reported in Army circles that legislative action is to be asked early in the coming session of Congress to authorize the turchase of the 110-ton Krupp gun, which attracted so much attention at the World's Fair at Chicago. According to report, it is proposed to erect this mammoth gun at Sandy Hook for use in the defence of New-York Harbor.
